

AHS 2017 Summer Self-Select Reading List:

We are proud to unveil our 2017 student self-select list. We are encouraging students to read over the summer, and we are suggesting this list of titles; however, there is no one specific title assigned for the summer, and students will not be graded for their summer reading. This list represents just the beginning of their options! (As with any list, you know your child's maturity level best, so please assist them in their selections.)

We are hoping to create life-long readers who choose to read rather than feel forced to read. Naturally, we will continue to assign texts from September to June, but we are excited to try this new approach in July and August.
